

Robert Moore

In the early 1980's, Robert got interested in archery from a friend. He fumbled around with it then took some classes. He had always enjoyed all types of shooting and hunting.

Robert was introduced to organized archery when a CBH/SAA Legislative Representative contacted him to discuss legislation and wanted to know if he would be interested in helping out. He quickly "laddered up the chain" and got more involved.

He decided to become a Bowhunter Education Instructor in the 1990's. But, it wasn't until 1993 that Robert joined NFAA and CBH/SAA.

Robert became the Legislative Coordinator in 2012. He was well known for his confident voice when speaking about legislation, whether it be to legislators, clubs or every day archers.

He was always passionate about legislation and worked closely on the archery turkey season, was instrumental in the minimum draw weight for bows during archery season and worked with Fish & Game on the expandable broadhead measurements.

Robert worked with the California Legislators educating them on archery. He was at the Sportsman's Caucus every year, teaching how to shoot a bow & arrow. The archery station at the Caucus was the most popular event as they even had to put up lights for the legislators to keep shooting.

He worked closely with NASP. This is the National Archery in Schools Program. He, and others, approached Fish & Wildlife to get this program into the schools.

Robert is well known for his coaching of kids and young adults in archery. The love he had for them, teaching them, encouraging them, walking them through local tournaments, he could never get enough smiles seeing them reach their goals.

It is with pleasure to induct Robert Moore into the California Archery Hall of Fame.
