“You Never Know”

By Wayne Raupe

This is a difficult article to write but I/we must recognize and honor our archery Brothers and great friends, some of whom we have lost to this #@%$@ Covid virus. I am going to keep it upbeat as much as I can. Alan Meurer lost his battle with Covid on August 24, 2021. Ruben Carlos lost his battle on February 7th, 2022, and Marco Proto lost his on February 23, 2022. I had the honor of knowing and spending lots of time with each of them. They all were absolutely the kind of people you wanted in your corner.

In addition to their immediate families, these men had large extended families, many in the archery community that they loved, and were loved in return. Each one of these men would come to your aid at any time and any place. They ALL gave much of their time to the sport of archery which was their love. Each one supported archery through their memberships and support of the California Bowmen Hunters / State Archery Association (CBH/SAA), and their participation in local and distant archery clubs. If it were not for their love of archery many people would never have met these awesome individuals.

Additionally, these three individuals supported the CBH/SAA Small Game Club with their participation in the Tilapia and Carp Tournaments. Both Alan and Marco were at the 2021, Tilapia Tournament and are, by chance, and very fitting, pictured in the group photo that is on this year's Tilapia flyer found elsewhere in this issue of this magazine. Both Alan and Marco were successful in getting tilapia that were milestones for each of them.

Alan Meurer:

I have known Alan for about 30 years. I can't recall when we first met but no doubt it was at the Annual CBH/SAA meeting. I learned we had something in common and that was my middle name is spelled just like his first name... Alan. We hit it off right from the start. When we disagreed on something he would start his rebuttal/explanation with, “Well Wayne...” he would tell my why I was wrong.

The only big game hunt I went on with Alan was when he, Rodger Cady, Bill Kuehn, and I went to Wyoming. We brought back three deer and one buck antelope. We really had a great time and Alan and I often talked about going back or doing another hunt... but we never did.

Most of our time together was either bowfishing or CBH/SAA Legislative Team activities./ He was a Legislative Team Member for many years and was someone I could count on when I served as CBH/SAA President, and also when I was the Legislative Coordinator. Having people who know the history, and don't always agree with you are important people to have around to offer guidance.

Alan Meurer with his 1st Place stud of a Tilapia that tipped scales at 5 lb 6 oz.

Alan was the bow fisherman that received the 1st place award for the biggest tilapia of the 2021 Tilapia Tournament with a 5 lbs 6 oz bruiser. Alan was super excited when he shot this big strapping Tilapia on Saturday morning... and rightfully so. There had not been an entry in the CBH/SAA Big Game Club Record Book for a tilapia over a 5lbs before 2008, which was in the 10th year of the Tilapia Tournament's history. From what I see in the current record book Alan's tilapia is the 8th largest tilapia of almost 100 entries. Number one in the current book is a tilapia that Gary Roney shot which weighed 7 lbs 7 oz.

Alan was excited to share his luck with his wife Terri, who is also a bow fisherman but was at home in Visalia. He texted her and sent her a photo of the fish as soon as he shot it. Continued on page 6

You Never Know Continued from page 5- Alan knew that the longer a fish is dead and out of the water the more weight it will lose due to dehydration, so he immediately took his trophy back to camp to get it weighed. His timing was perfect because the Small Game Chairperson, JBarr, had just returned to camp for a few minutes and they got an official weight for it.

If you come to the 2022 Tilapia Tournament, and you are lucky enough to shoot a tilapia that places in the top three of the tournament, you'll receive a plaque with a handmade tilapia by Gilbert Olivas, and your name your name will put into the big game club record book.

Very few of us have gotten a tilapia that tipped the scales at 5 lbs let alone 5 lbs 6 oz! I am one of those that have not accomplished that milestone even though I have shot over 200 tilapia. So, I am very envious of Alan's success.

Marco Proto:

The first time I met Marco, his wife and beautiful daughter, Raylene, was at a Cherry Valley Archery Tournament held at the Big Horn Canyon Ranch in Riverside County. About mid-way through the tournament Marco got so frustrated with his shooting that he threw his bow into the bushes. He shot much better after his tantrum. I still don't know if throwing the bow adjusted his sights or if it adjusted him. It was here at this tournament that I realized that I had just found a friend that I would call my brother.

At the 2021 Tilapia Tournament, Marco told me on Saturday that he was having trouble finding tilapia. I told him to come with me on Sunday and I would put him a spot where he would get some shots. It was absolutely my honor to take Marco to my favorite tilapia hot spot. Within minutes, he got his first tilapia, on his first shot. I'm not sure who was more excited about him getting that first tilapia, him, or me. But needless to say, he was over the top! His goal was to get a new small game species for his Small Game List, and he accomplished that. Then he got his second tilapia on his 2nd shot. Now he thought the sun rose and sat at my command! His fish didn't meet the Big Game Record Book minimum weight of 3 lbs to be entered into the book but each of his fish weighed in at a respectable 2 lbs.

Marco Proto with one of his 2 lb Tilapia which added a new species onto his Small Game Species List in an effort to reach 35 species and induction into the Golden Eagle Society with a Golden Gagle Award.

Ruben Carlos:

Ruben and I spent hundreds of hours shooting and having fun at the Oranco Bowmen Archery Range in Chino, CA. But some of our best times were outdoors hunting one thing or another. We attended Tilapia Tournaments together and sometimes we went during mid-summer to see if any fish were around. One time we failed to check what the weather was going to be like in Palo Verde. Continued on page 7

You Never Know Continued from page 6 -It was so hot we both were on the verge of having a heat stroke and had to drink lots of water while we sat in my pickup for half an hour with the A/C cranked up. At 6pm that day the temp dropped to 111 degrees, and it felt like someone turned on the A/C.

Ruben Carlos, and his jet black hair, with chucker we could not get with our archery gear.

Ruben and I went chucker hunting with our archery gear and were VERY UNSUCCESSFUL, so we returned with our shotguns and limited out. On this hunt we learned not to travel with “Silica gel” packets still in shotgun cases. You know, those annoying little white packets found in many things you purchase that absorbs moisture. The packets may break open and the little beads could get all over and stick to the metal parts of the gun. This could jam the semi-auto action, and when another bird takes off you might not get another shot... well, you get the point. Yes, this happened and the birds escaped unscathed...

Another lesson, we learned, was to always have table salt in your backpack when hunting in the hot, dry, heat of the desert. We both had leg cramps, and Ruben's were so bad, he had to walk half a mile, backwards, up, and out of a canyon. Back at the truck, a pinch of salt placed under our tongues immediately cured the cramps.

Ruben was very much a wordsmith and would toss $100 words out at us in just normal conversation. I saw the expression on many faces that told me that they had no clue what the heck he just said. I don't know if Ruben attended higher education or not but even though I spent 6 years in college and have a Bachelor of Science Degree he had me guessing at times with his extensive vocabulary.

Ruben also had an opinion on most things. I think he was a subtle type “A” personality, so he wasn't pushy... other than reminding me, every time I drew my bow back that I was taking too long to aim at my target and I needed to shoot quicker.

So many stories, in fact three lifetimes of stories could be told about these guys who loved what we love... archery!

We never know if what we are doing right now, will be the last time we will have the opportunity to do what we are doing. So, maybe we need to rethink some things in our lives and things we want to do. Because we are mortal humans, we must take advantage of our time here and now, and make time for the people we love, the things we love, and things we love doing. We may not be here for the next time. That being said ...I want to ask you all to start making time for those things that are important to you because...

“You Never Know.”

Harvested TILAPIA - Grilled

Dirty Fingernails

Matted hair, dirty fingernails, cold cutting winds, a runny nose and stinky armpits. Those are but a few of the things that are predictable when you're out in the wilderness. Oh, and of course this wilderness offered extra amenities like Ocotillo, Saguaro and Cholla cactus, highlighted by Yuccas, Devils Claw, mesquite and Joshua trees. The only neighbors are owls and coyotes at night. During the day you may see a couple quail, a smattering of ravens, the odd cow or two, black-tail jack rabbits and burros.

Any or all of those presumably deterrents, are temporarily dismissed when a 3/4 curl ram steps from behind a rusty red boulder into your field of view.

A tripod helps to stabilize your 25 powered optics as the whipping winds dance. The desert bighorn beauty is no less than a regal sharp eyed opponent.

Maybe a family tradition?

Contact: Lori Raupe, CBH Editor, she will help you with your story!

Deadline for June issue: April 25th!

Continued from page 8- He graces the desert floor but prefers the sanctuary of lofty rocky crags and the security they offer. My Employer, The Arizona Game and Fish Department announced the event starting with this information: 10 VOLUNTEERS FOR BIGHORN SHEEP CAPTURE Dates: January 31st thru February 4th, 2022. Throughout Unit 16A of Region 3 which could include the Arrastra, Artillery, Rawhide, Aubrey, Little Black, Bill Williams, and the Mohave Mountains. This area is roughly 25 miles wide and 45 miles long. The objective was to capture 26 desert bighorn sheep for disease testing and fit them with GPS tracking collars.

Volunteers were needed to assist Arizona Game and Fish Department personnel with locating bighorn sheep from designated observation points. Through GPS coordinates, spotter planes were guided in until the helicopter could arrive. This would keep the helicopter flight time to a minimum.

Each volunteer was canvassed for equipment and skill set. Some of the questions, :Do you have binoculars? Spotting scope? 4x4 vehicle? Orange vest? And GPS/onX mapping application and abilities?

Of particular importance was the rating of one's physical and hiking abilities and orienteering skill set. All would be necessary to assist in the locations of sheep bands so State employees could do their jobs. Even though the project would last only 3 days, the $850,000 federal grant monies would be consumed.

Being selected to represent California Bowmen Hunters, I was lucky enough to join the ARIZONA Fish and Game team. I was sooo excited to sight my first animals mid day. They were in the shade but the correct color and I was sure I could make out a couple of legs standing in the Joshua Trees. Out came the spot scope and: Voila'! - oh, drat; burros!

By noon our first day two sheep had been netted and fitted with tracking collars. The catch, one ewe and one ram. The collar on the left is epoxy filled for rams to compensate for their head butting. The collars are plastic reinforced with fiberglass webbing. Once activated a signal is sent out every 30 minutes to a machine which collects information on all animals, then prints it out every twelve hours. If for some reason no movement is detected during a six hour period a "mortality" signal is enacted which emits an alert to officials. These transmission devices have a longevity of three years and are roughly $1,600 apiece.

As nightfall blanketed the arid surroundings 9 rams and 6 ewes had been "equipped". That night the breeze increased to a wind and by morning gale winds peaking at 45 mph were registered. No "birds" would be placed in the air - nor a tripod stable enough for spotting, so the mission was postponed until the following day. Teams prevailed over the elements on the day which followed. Reported sheep sightings were maintained under the watchful eye of overhead spotter planes until the helicopter crews could arrive.

The chopper carried the most integral part of the operation. Of course the pilot and then two "net gunners". Once the chopper was on the sheep the first "net gunner" would fire their net from the 10" square cannon nozzle.

Continued from page 9 -The helicopter would bank sharply and align on another sheep of the same band and the second “gunner” would net their prey.

The males were Class IV rams which means they were between six and seven years old. As an added bonus, 7 mule deer were also ear tagged, collared and tested. The results of any diseases will be conclusive in about a week. Giving back to our hunting community can be done quite easily and it is so rewarding to get involved. My concluding remark; I love the desert; for very short periods of time - but nothing like the way I thrive in the alpine mountains; above 10,000 - now that brother; is liv'n!

Quickly thereafter each gunner was on the ground and immediately “muzzled” (blindfold over the eyes) the sheep. Next blood was drawn, ear tag affixed and a radio collar attached before releasing the sheep (in less than five minutes).

All efforts were successful and our group concluded events safely and early with the anticipated 26 sheep of which 15 were ewes and 11 males. Two of

Terry Mikesell

Hall of Fame Inductee 2-26-2022

Kathleen “Terry” Mikesell got into archery from the love of helping her friends out.

Terry is known as the volunteer for everything. You need help, she’d be there to help you out. And, you’d better be ready if she needed your help.

Terry’s knowledge of who to get in touch with, who to talk to about a problem, how to solve an issue, she had the answer for you. Terry was never known to be shy. You knew where she stood on an issue and she was always open for conversation.

She started her volunteering at Straight Arrow Bow Hunters back in the 1970’s, working a snack bar out of a van. Fast forward to the 90’s, there were countless hours of working the Western Classic Trail Shoot in the kitchen, up at 3am and to bed at 10pm, then back at it the very next day.

Terry became the SAB Treasurer in the mid 90’s & held that position for almost 10 years. She was also the Tournament Director, Purchasing Agent and heck of a burger flipper. After being involved with SAB for many years, she then volunteered with the Cascade Region. She and Steve Bostain went everywhere together. They worked the shoots together.

Yes, Terry did shoot a bow too. Although she would say that she “flung the arrows out there”, she was always having a great time. Might have cost her a few arrows, but that was okay, she was having fun with other like minded archers.

She competed at the Gene Foster Traditional Rendezvous, CBH/SAA Broadhead, Straight Arrow Bow Hunters fun shoots, Humboldt Archers and Ishi Rock Festival.

After many years of local archery, she got involved with CBH/SAA.

Terry became the CBH/SAA Treasurer in 2007. She always looked out for the best for CBH/SAA. Although she was cautious about the online ways of doing business, she was there to see that online membership was up and running.

Terry was passionate about her work, was a humble woman, worked tirelessly for anyone who needed her and to say the least, she was a very patriotic lady.

FROM OUR HISTORIAN

Scott Walker

Boone and Crockett Club

Theodore Roosevelt 26th President of the United States (1901-1909) is one of my favorite presidents and as you read along you will know why.

In December of 1897, before he was president, Roosevelt hosted dinner party in New York City with several of his prominent and influential friends. He was "preaching to the choir" as he conveyed his deep concern for the massive deterioration of the wild game because those present were avid sportsman. During the previous ten years, they had witnessed the slaughter of some 60 million bison and what would become the complete annihilation of the passenger pigeon. Each knew all too well that the popularity of market hunting and the absence of game restrictions would combine to cause continued depletion of the remaining wildlife populations, many at the point of extinction.

That evening marked the founding of the Boone and Crockett club. The mission of the club's membership was to do all in their individual and combine powers to stem the tide of this uncontrolled destruction and convince the nation's leadership that "fair chase sport hunting" was not only an ethical pursuit but a sound game management tool.

Theodore Roosevelt, as president, also established the United States forest service, five national parks, fifty-one bird reserves, four game preserves, and 150 national forests. The area of the United States that he placed under public protection totaled approximately 230,000,000 acres.

Roosevelt became the most prolific conservator of natural resources in the American history. The conservation legislation enacted in the early 1900s, ended the decline of the large mammal population.

Theodore Roosevelt was the founder of many conservation projects to protect the decline of mammal populations where the basis of rules and laws for the public and our hunters of today.

The Boon And Crockett Club, the movement and its leaders must have had the intestinal fortitude to persist through the months or even years of and inevitable setbacks, consistent frustrations and possible public ridicule. Such commitment can only come from the heart!

Thank You for your Donations to the CBHSAA Legislative Defense Fund!
By Robert Moore- Legislative Coordinator

I want to thank those that have donated funds to our Legislative Defense Fund. With your donations, your Legislative Team, representing the six DFG Regions, can attend important meetings and react to issues that are impacting our sport. We can also meet our Financial Obligations to Gaines and Associates who represent us in the state capital, at all DFG meetings, and up and down the state when and where needed. Their goals are to promote wildlife conservation and protect our archery and hunting heritage within the state political system. However, we are, and always will be, responsible for all costs over and above their obligation to us. That is, when CBH/SAA has to retain a legal team to protect us and our sport, it will be at our expense. This is why your donations are so important to the Legislative Defense Fund in any amount you can afford. Again, I would like to thank those listed below in addition to those that donated previously for their support.
