Legislative information: You can follow current legislation at <http://leginfo.legislature.ca.gov/>
AB 564 (Gonzalez) – Biodiversity Protection and Restoration Act. AB 564 by Assembly Member would establish the Biodiversity Protection and Restoration Act and require all state agencies, boards, and commissions to consider and prioritize the protection of biodiversity in carrying out their statutory mandates. The bill would require strategies related to the goal of the state to conserve at least 30% of California’s land and coastal waters by 2030 to be made available to the public and provided to certain legislative committees by no later than June 30, 2022. Update: AB 564 has been cancelled by author

AB 614 Aguiar-Curry. Wildlife habitat: birds. This bill would raise by $5 the upland game bird hunting validation and the state duck hunting validation fees, as specified, with that $5 to be deposited, and available upon appropriation to the department for the Nesting Bird Habitat Incentive Program, in the Nesting Bird Habitat Incentive Program Account, which the bill would create in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund. This bill instead would require the Upland Game Bird Account advisory committee to annually review and provide comments to the department on all proposed projects and other expenditures funded from the Upland Game Bird Account to help ensure that specified requirements pertaining to the Upland Game Bird Account have been met and require the department to post budget information and a brief description on its internet website for all projects and other expenditures funded from the Upland Game Bird Account. Update: AB 614 is now in the Senate Appropriations Committee

AB 645 (Gallagher) – Fish and Wildlife: Poaching Violations – Probation. Laws which significantly increased fines for possessing more than three times the daily bag limit and for the illegal take of wildlife for profit or personal gain which increased penalties for the illegal take of trophy-class animals took a step back last year when the State Legislature passed legislation that reduced maximum probation from three years to one year for all misdemeanor violations whose provisions do not call out a specific probation length. Because current law does not specify maximum probation periods for any poaching crimes, the effect of this legislation was to limit probation for even the most serious misdemeanor poaching violations to one year.

Said differently, prior to passage of last year’s legislation, a judge could sentence individuals convicted of serious poaching crimes to probation that would prohibit them from hunting for up to three years. The option of a longer probationary period also helped to ensure that penalty assessments could be collected.

To address this serious concern, this bill as amended March 11, 2021, would reinstate a maximum 3-year probation for the following serious violations of the Fish and Game Code: Continued on page 5

Legislative Coordinator Report Robert Moore

A Fish and Game Commission meeting was held August 18, 2021 by webinar teleconference. Agenda item of interest 25. Petitions for regulation change received at previous meetings. Consider whether to grant, deny, or refer for additional review petitions for regulation change received under general public comment at previous meetings. Note: New petitions for regulation change are generally received under general public comment. Any petitions granted today will be added to the Commission’s rulemaking calendar for development and future consideration. (A) Action on current petitions I. Petition 2021-005: Request to revise fishing regulations for Alameda Creek tributaries and San Antonio and Calaveras reservoirs II. Petition 2021-006: Request to revise deer tag fee structure III. Petition 2021-007: Request to revise authorized methods of take and designation for wild pig IV. Petitions 2021-008, 2021-009, 2021-011, and 2021-012: Request to change East Walker River special fishing regulations

(B) Action on pending regulation petitions referred to staff or the Department for review I. Petition 2021-003: Request to change East Walker River special fishing regulations.

The next FGC meeting will be October 13-14 in Sacramento

Next Wildlife Resources Committee meeting September 16th, agenda has not been posted at this writing.

Legislative Report from page 4-

- §12012 – The illegal take of wildlife for profit or personal gain
 - §12013 – The illegal take or possession in the field of more than three times the daily bag limit
 - §12013.3 – The illegal take of trophy deer, elk, antelope, bighorn sheep or wild turkey
 - §12002.3(b) - The illegal sale purchase of abalone
- AB 645 is in appropriations committee and held under submission

AB 804 Megan, Dahle. Free hunting days. Existing law authorizes the Director of Fish and Wildlife to establish 2 free hunting days per year: one in the fall, and one in the winter. Existing law authorizes a California unlicensed resident to hunt during a free hunting day if accompanied by a licensed hunter, subject to certain conditions. Existing law prohibits these provisions from being implemented until the Department of Fish and Wildlife's Automated License Data System is fully operational for at least one year. This bill would require, rather than authorize, the director to establish 2 free hunting days per year, one in the fall and one in the spring, no later than July 1, 2022. The bill would delete the prohibition requiring a delay in implementation of the above-described provisions. Update: AB 804 is in the Senate Floor.

AB 1223 (Levine) Major rewrite to The Gun Violence Prevention, Healing, and Recovery Act, The Gun Violence Prevention, Healing, and Recovery Act, would, commencing July 1, 2022, impose an excise tax in the amount of 10% of the sales price of a handgun and 11% of the sales price of a long gun, rifle, firearm precursor part, and ammunition as specified. The tax would be collected by the state pursuant to the Fee Collection Procedures Law. The bill would require that the revenues collected be deposited in the CalVIP Firearm and Ammunition Tax Gun Violence Prevention, Healing, and Recovery Fund, which the bill would create. The bill would continuously appropriate moneys in that fund to the Board of State and Community Corrections to provide CalVIP grants, thereby making an appropriation. The bill would remove the $1,500,000 CalVIP grant limit and authorize the Board of State and Community Corrections to determine the award amount.

AB 1223 would continuously appropriate moneys in that Fund to the Board of State and Community Corrections to fund CalVIP programs which remediate the effects the illegal use of firearms has in our state. Implementing successful programs for addressing gun violence is something that all Californians support and would benefit from. As such, all of California should equally help to fund their implementation. However, under AB 1223, CalVIP programs would only be funded by law-abiding citizens who legally purchase firearms and ammunition. Because AB 1223 would result in a taxpayer paying a higher tax, the bill requires approval of 2/3 of the membership of each house of the Legislature. Update: AB

1223 has been extensively changed and is now on the Assembly floor, it failed to pass the assembly but the Assembly Rules plans to amend AB 1223 to add an "urgency clause" – and sits on the Assembly floor and can be voted on anytime.

SB 370 Dodd, Wildlife: Big Game Management Account: uses. Existing law establishes the Big Game Management Account within the Fish and Game Preservation Fund. Existing law requires revenue from the sale of tags for antelope, elk, deer, wild pig, bear, and sheep to be deposited in the account, except as provided. Existing law requires funds deposited in the account to be expended, upon appropriation by the Legislature, by the Department of Fish and Wildlife, solely for specified purposes and pursuant to specified limitations. This bill instead would authorize the department to make grants to, reimburse, or enter into contracts or other agreements with public and private entities, including nonprofit organizations, and federally recognized Indian tribes for the use of the funds from the account to carry out those purposes. Update: SB 370 was ordered to inactive file by author

SB 470 Jones, Fishing and hunting: annual combined hunting and fishing licenses.

This bill would create the annual combined hunting and fishing license that would grant the holder of the license the same privileges as the annual hunting and fishing licenses and that would be valid for a term of one year from the date specified on the license. The bill would limit the issuance of these licenses to residents and would require the department to issue these licenses beginning January 1, 2023, upon payment of a fee of $100, as adjusted annually for inflation. The bill would require the Fish and Game Commission to adjust the amount of the fee to fully recover, but not exceed, all reasonable administrative and implementation costs of the department and the commission relating to these licenses. The bill would require the department to provide an applicant for one of these licenses the option to automatically renew the license and would provide a 5% discount if the applicant selects this option. Update: SB 470 has moved to the assembly and is in Appropriations committee.

How to Hunt... and Stay Married

Recently, I was at the 60th Pope and Young Awards Banquet. Hunters gathered and animal were on display and given the respect they had earned. What also caught the eye of any close to observant was the amount of grey hair in the room. With all the years of experience represented surely there was wisdom there to be shared. With hours, days and sometimes weeks of giving up your personal wishes and desires, the countless days, weeks and months pouring over topo maps and planning, all for one goal. Even the meticulous detail in checking gear and making sure it's in working order all the attributes of commitment, devotion, patience, tenacity, willingness to learn and understand behavior, acceptance, pain, suffering and adaptation - are these the building blocks of hunting success?

The focus of this article will undoubtedly have many parallels with developed "habits" for successfully harvesting animals year after year and remaining in a healthy marriage. These "Hunting couples," whose marriages had reached 50 years or more of celebration were asked to share their thoughts on these subjects.

Larry and Miriam Jones

Early in our marriage Miriam and our three kids went camping/hunting with me, so we planned those hunts together. When I started our Wilderness Sound Productions company Miriam was heavily involved, so hunts were planned and agreed upon. Miriam is not a hunter and since some trips were backcountry or rugged hunts, she didn't want to go or she needed to stay home to run our business. Our 60th wedding anniversary will be on November 23, 2021, and there are many reasons we are still together.

Since everyone is different we don't always agree, and some arguments get heated. One thing I've realized is that lots of our spats aren't really worth arguing about, so I carefully choose my battles and back off when it's not that big of a deal. I believe that is one thing that has helped us stay together. We made a vow to God to, "love, hold and cherish," each other for better or worse, till death do we part. It's important for both of us to keep this pledge. I married a young, beautiful, caring and loving woman who has supported me through all my endeavors. She is still supportive, helpful and beautiful. I also support her in whatever she loves to do. When I want to go on a hunt we discuss it and listen to our thoughts and concerns. I also invite Miriam to go with me. She has traveled to Africa with me and enjoyed those hunts and would return in a heartbeat.

When I met Judy in high school I immediately discovered she came from a hunting family and she knew how to get along in the outdoors. Her family, men and women, were deer and elk and small game hunters. She learned how to shoot a .22 rifle early on and knew all about shooting, reloading and being an outdoors girl. I got lucky there, for sure. Raising four boys and a girl limited her time until they were junior high and high school age. I started her shooting a bow right after we got married, and as most women are, she was a natural. She was a good shot with her bows. After the kids were growing up and shooting bows Judy started hunting with me and she took some nice game animals. I'll admit I left her with the kids a lot while I hunted, but she never wavered in her faith in my hunting. We also were good at communicating with each other and when problems came up we were always able to work them out. Continued on page 7

How to Hunt From page 6 - I knew I was going to marry Marvin while in high school, says Judy. I told some girl friends that I was going to marry him someday and I didn't even know him. We were in the study hall together. When we started raising a family I was taking care of youngsters while he hunted, but we did accompany him on hunting/camping trips. After the kids got older and started bowhunting for small game I was into the bow shooting and hunting more. After the kids were out of high school we made many hunts together all over the country. Even though I resented him being gone so much while I was home with the kids, we stayed together and faithful to each other. We were always able to work out our problems and carry on. Big game meat was an essential part of our food system and it contributed to a very healthy family. I learned to cook from my mother and grandmother and had a variety of ways to cook wild game. We loved it.

Ron and Diana Crouch

As a married couple for now, over 50 years, we did not easily come to an instant remedy for some of the problems that can and do arise during hunting season. In the early years of our marriage we struggled to make ends meet and raise a family. We mostly worked for minimum wage so life was not easy and extra money was scarce. Even then, Diana graciously allowed me the freedom to take my bow into the woods on local adventures. She knew it was something I loved. She now says that she began to realize that bowhunting was not just a hobby for me but a much needed "escape" that would renew and refresh me in a way nothing else could. She says that she also realized that while some of her friends were having difficulty keeping their husbands from running around at night to the local bars, she didn't have to worry. I spent my extra energy with my bow on a mountain somewhere. She will also tell you that it was a "trade off" of sorts because I also allowed her the freedom and funds to pursue her hobby which was "Doll Collecting". She enjoyed the fact that couples could visit our home and either go to the "Trophy Room" if that was their thing or to the "Doll Room" if they didn't hunt.

Diana enjoyed going to the archery range with me during the earlier years of our marriage just to watch me shoot and enjoy times with friends and family. She always liked camping and enjoyed many good times holding down our base camp while I spent most of the day looking for critters. Although she never had much interest in hunting herself she definitely enjoys the table fare. The extended hunts to far away places, sometimes 30 days or more, were difficult for her because she didn't like being away from me for that long, but she sacrificed her time with me so that I could fulfill another hunting adventure. Taking big game with a simple bow and arrow takes persistence, patience, hard work and time in the field not only hunting but studying the intricate habits of your quarry that will enable you to have the best chances for success.

None of these things can be adequately accomplished without a spouses willing to sacrifice time for each other. I was blessed in the beginning to marry my best friend and I will be forever grateful for the sacrifices she made because she loved me. We realize that our willingness to mutually sacrifice for each other's benefit extended into many other areas of our lives that were beneficial to a long healthy marriage. Our love for each other now is only exceeded by our love for Jesus and willingness to sacrifice for Him. "Another's sacrifice can make ALL the difference". - God Bless and Good Hunting! How to hunt from page 7-

Rodney and Alice York

There would be more to contribute but Ron and Diana covered about everything. So with all this said one could surmise the necessities to a good (successful) hunter are shared with long lasting marriages as well. The practiced characteristics of patience, tenacity, discipline, devotion and sacrifice nurture success. As with hunting we should observe, take notes and learn from each other.

Communication and compromise will be some of the best arrows in our quivers. A key component here that can't be denied is respect. These practices cannot only save us time, but increase our successes. Selfishness ultimately leads down an ugly road of loneliness and depression. With combined years of marriages 220+ years of these featured writers wish all of you the best in your marriage and in the field. Remember: Most things in life require sufficient effort.

WATERFOWL SEASON

William (Jbarr") Barr

Did you know in north America there is about forty-one waterfowl species? These include ducks, geese swans and cranes. However in the golden state of California some of the common waterfowl you will encounter are: Mallard, Gadwall, Pintail, Widgeon, Wood Duck, Canvasback, Redhead, Ring-Neck, Green Wing Teal, Blue Wing Teal, Cinnamon Teal, Bufflead, Golden Eye, Northern Shoveler (AKA SPOONIE), Canada Goose, Snow Goose, Rose Goose Cackling Goose and the White Front Goose to name just a few. So, race to your favorite archery shop and grab a dozen Flu-Flu arrows and start practicing. A sharp broadhead arrow is essential to penetrate those feathers and if shooting at closer range a small game head will work just fine like the G5.

The State of California Department Fish and Game has sent reminder, important to everyone who is chasing waterfowl this season. You must use a Flu-Flu arrow to harvest any migratory bird. Make sure you look, read and understand the regulations and always have a copy with you or on your phone. Knowing where you can and cannot use a bow is also your responsibility so read-up and good luck to you all this archery season.

Thank you Wayne Raupe for sharing your photo of your Drake Mallard duck, harvested with your bow and Flu-Flu arrow to add your growing small game species list.

DUCK BLIND SNACK

Ingredients:

- 4-5 lbs. wild duck or goose breast
- 1 1/2 cups soy sauce
- 1 1/2 cups Mr. Yoshida's Marinade & Cooking Sauce
- 2 tbsp. Tabasco
- 3 tbsp. Worcestershire
- 2 tbsp. onion powder
- 2 tbsp. garlic salt
- 2 tbsp. pepper
- 1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper
- 1 capful liquid smoke
- 1/4 tsp. chili powder
- 1 tbsp. minced garlic
- 1 tbsp. your favorite BBQ sauce
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 bottle of beer (half for brine, half for you)

Directions

1. Mix all above ingredients together in a small stainless steel bowl. Stir until sugar is dissolved.
2. Cut duck/goose breast while partially frozen using a slicer or filet knife. Cut into thin strips 1/4-inch or less.
3. In large stainless steel bowl, combine meat and brine making sure the brine covers the meat, store in a cool place for 24 hours (the longer the better).
4. Remove meat from brine and place strips on butcher paper or newspaper and let sit for 15 minutes (Optional: Sprinkle meat with black pepper or crushed red chilies as it dries on paper).
5. Place meat in dehydrator or smoker for 8 hours or until done (if smoking, use only one pan of your favorite chips).
6. Rotate trays to keep meat from getting too done.
7. Remove from dehydrator or smoker and enjoy with family, friends and hunting partners.
8. Store in zip-top bags. You may freeze the jerky in freezer zip-top bags for up to 3 months. Good luck hunting!

FROM THE HISTORIAN SCOTT WALKER
 Enjoy this little bit of history that I passed on to you.

"This is the first edition of The Pacific Coast Bowhunter. Its objective is to render a service to the archery world of the west in the combined forms of newspaper, club bulletin and advertising medium. It is intended to give individuals as well as organizations equal and unbiased news coverage. Unlike the popular and well dedicated archery magazines, The Pacific Coast Bowhunter will not publish hunting stories. It will, however, treat the hunting experience as a news item. The founder and publisher is an archer and newspaperman. He is experienced in the various fields that make up the printing profession, and he is familiar with the problems facing modern archery. All things considered it is my opinion that with the birth of The Pacific Coast Bowhunter archery has gained an avid supporter and well destined publication." CHICO CLUB TO HOLD APRIL FOOLS DAY SHOOT

CIBA LAW CHANGE CREATES DISCORD

LODI—Feb. 26—At a regular monthly meeting of the C.I.B.A. held here today, the Board of Governors proposed the association's by-laws be changed in order to permit bare bow and sight archers to compete on an even basis. Ballots will be mailed to all members for the deciding vote.

The proposal immediately raised a storm of controversy in different quarters. Free style archers maintain the rules governing tournaments are discriminatory against them due to the greater number of instructors. Even clubs in some cases, were divided in opinion. The Yahi Bowmen of Modesto were not, however. They drew up a resolution announcing their intention to fight the proposed measure whole-heartedly. The Yahi club has a solid C.I.B.A. membership.

A tentative tournament schedule was worked out at the meeting which includes a tri-regional shoot between Northern California Field Archery Assn., Mission Trails Bowmen and the C.I.B.A.

Proposed Novelty Tournament First of Its Kind Held in the Lassen District

HOWARD HILL— with bob cat killed near the Chico Range. In response to numerous bids to visit Northern California, Hill has written a reply which appears on page 3 of this issue.

An officer of one of our state archery organizations has written an article concerning the planned C.I.B.A. by-laws change. It appears on page 7.

LARGE TURNOUT ANTICIPATED FOR COMING EVENT

CHICO—March 1—The "trickster" type tournament planned here is expected to draw archers from all over the area according to reports received from D. L. Baxter and Mac McLeod, chairmen of the event. It will be a four arrow shoot with surprises for everyone at each target. An archer whether he hits or misses will not know his score until the scoring instructions are read. For example, a target legend might read:

"For those who scored, we're sorry pard, but — put a zero on your score card.

For those who missed, well that's just fine, —put a ten on the scoring line."

"Newcomers to archery will have an equal chance of winning" Baxter said today. "The average bowman is all too seldom a winner and this tournament is designed to give everyone a break. For it is usually that same average bowman who is the hard worker

Thank You for your Donations to the CBHSAA Legislative Defense Fund!
By Robert Moore- Legislative Coordinator

I want to thank those that have donated funds to our Legislative Defense Fund. With your donations, your Legislative Team, representing the six DFG Regions, can attend important meetings and react to issues that are impacting our sport. We can also meet our Financial Obligations to Gaines and Associates who represent us in the state capital, at all DFG meetings, and up and down the state when and where needed. Their goals are to promote wildlife conservation and protect our archery and hunting heritage within the state political system. However, we are, and always will be, responsible for all costs over and above their obligation to us. That is, when CBH/SAA has to retain a legal team to protect us and our sport, it will be at our expense. This is why your donations are so important to the Legislative Defense Fund in any amount you can afford. Again, I would like to thank those listed below in addition to those that donated previously for their support.

THIS MONTH'S DONATIONS INCLUDE:

THANK YOU
