It's been a long couple of months, and I hope this finds everyone well. Things continue to evolve in this great country of ours and I suppose Archery changes right along with it. I'm on a bit of a short timeline so here we go.

September saw the completion of the State 900 outdoor target competition, and this may have been the best one yet! Largely because I didn't have to run one. Oranco has a new Tournament Chairman, and he took it over and did a fantastic job. Thanks to all that participated around the state. The close of this tournament was the swan song for our beloved 2nd VP of Target Karen Keating. Karen has submitted her retirement papers and will be riding off into the sunset. I want to personally thank Karen for her dedicated service to CBH over the years and wish her all the best as she heads for Arizona.

October saw a flurry of archery activity as clubs hosted shoots and we knocked out the State Marked Yardage 3D championship. As always, Oranco Bowmen did a great job hosting this shoot as a piggyback to their yearly Tomahawk 2-day shoot. We saw a decent turnout and I think everyone enjoyed it. Once again, we bid farewell to a very well-respected member of our board. 2nd VP of Field Dan Stafford is heading back east to be closer to family. His retirement is immediate and as always, we thank Dan for his tireless work and dedication to CBH over the years. His successor has been appointed and approved and it is my pleasure to introduce and have Robert Tehee as our new 2nd VP of Field. Robert, being an experienced target archer that really enjoys Field Archery will do a fantastic job. He took some tips from Dan during the State Marked shoot and is catching on quick. He will be looking to the clubs to bid for field locations.

We had another exciting weekend hosting the Legislative Defense Fundraiser shoot just last weekend. We had a lot of fun with 80 shooters and a unique format that incorporated many different archery disciplines. I don't believe anyone will underestimate my ability to torture people coming up the "cardiac hill" at Oranco.

Much fun was had by all, but more importantly, there was a lot of money raised to continue the legislative efforts of CBH. This was the brainchild of Legislative Coordinator Amanda Duchardt and I think she did a fantastic job! Her creativity and dedication to CBH is really great and archers all over the state should appreciate her representation of CBH at many critical events and discussions at the state level.

A Message from the President

By the time you read this we will have the IFAA North American Field Archery Championships in the books. This event only happens out here in the west about every 5 or 6 years. Hopefully, everyone had a chance to see the flier and get registered. If you didn't then look for it again at another venue next year. Field archery is not for everyone, but this is a great test against some international competition. I hope everyone had fun.

Fliers are out for the State Indoor Championships in January and the State Traditional at Fresno Field Archers in February. I'm looking forward to both. Get registered now! Beat the rush.

Legislative Team Update

by Amanda Duchardt
CBH/SAA Legislative Coordinator

Hello CBH/SAA friends and family!

Quick update on AB 2571 Firearms: Advertising to Minors "clean-up" legislation in the form of AB 160 – Governor Newsom signed this legislation into law on September 29. While CBH/SAA, hunter education, and other NGOs receive immediate benefits and relief from the effects of AB 2572, our California Hunting and Conservation Coalition (CHCC) partner California Rifle and Pistol Association (CRPA) continues to move forward with their lawsuit to permanently defeat this new law. Check out <https://crpa.org/> for the latest updates.

The biggest news this month is the success of the CBH/SAA Showcase Tournament and Legislative Defense Fundraiser! In total, the event grossed $5,126 for the Legislative Defense Fund in registration, raffle ticket sales, and other generous donations. That's over just 25% of our current annual budget!

First, a HUGE THANK YOU to the event committee that organized the shoot, ran targets, designed awards, and solicited raffle donations including Kevin Carlson, Rojen Basha, Al Wiscovitch, Pete Whitworth, Brad Belvedere, Jose Lara, and Raylene Proto. Thank you also to our event volunteers Vernie Urbano and the JOAD team (ran the State "Indoor" Targets), Jason Connor (ran the State 900 Targets), Steve Moss (ran a Hunt Scenario Target), Steve Baker and the Oranco cookshack volunteers, Oranco work party volunteers, Karen Keating and Donna Belvedere (ran registration), and J-Barr, Brad Grap and Chriss Bowles who gave up a day of waterfowl hunting on opening weekend to support and run the event! This event would not have been possible without YOU and I am humbled by your generosity and sacrifice to make this event an enjoyable success for our guests.

The event was held on October 23 at Oranco Bowmen in Chino, CA with 82 shooters taking part in a unique archery tournament. The shoot featured 26 targets from the State Field, State 900, State "Indoor", Stake Marked 3D and State Unmarked 3D Tournaments as well as 5 unique "Hunt Scenario" Targets each with its own hunting story and educational focus. Overall, the feedback was positive, and folks enjoyed the variety of targets and tournament experiences. We hope that this "taste" of CBH/SAA biggest tournaments will encourage folks to get up to speed on the full event rules, tournament dates, and register for upcoming shoots!

Thank you all for coming out to support the Legislative Team and trying out a new tournament event! Your generosity is AMAZING!

The event also hosted booths by the CBH/SAA Legislative Team, CBH/SAA Small Game Club and Big Game Club, and very special guests Raylene Proto from Ditale Outdoors (women's camouflage hunting apparel), and Brandon Nelson from Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation. Getting to meet some of our raffle donors in person, building lasting partnerships, and sharing our passion for the sport of archery and bowhunting was amazing and a tradition that the Legislative Team hopes to build upon in the coming months. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

By J-Barr
Small Game Club Chairperson

As the year 2022 comes to an end, we thought it would be appropriate to share the simple guidelines on submitting your next small game species to the California Bowman Hunters/State Archery Association (CBH/SAA), Small Game Club (SGC) Chairperson for recording on your personal small game species list and possible entry into the Big Game Club (BGC) Record Book.

The following rules have been set forth by the SGC Committee in order to provide clear direction, and answer questions that the membership might have concerning the harvest of small game species.

The SGC wants to be held to a high standard in the taking of all California Small Game species whether they are mammals, birds, reptiles, or amphibians. By following the rules set forth by the California Department of Fish and Wildlife (CDF&W) our members will be protected while in the field and this will provide for an even greater experience while doing what we love doing.

1. All species must be harvested by archery equipment, in California, that follows CDF&W specifications and rules.
2. All species will only be recorded on your list of species if the species is harvested with a bow and arrow. No entries will be accepted with a photograph of an arrow that is simply touching a captured species. This is a hunting club, not a capture or photography club.

Holiday Greetings FROM OUR FAMILIES TO YOURS! .

Another year older,
another day to celebrate,
More fun to be had,

give more hugs,
tell people, I love you!"
Express appreciation for everything you can!

President's message from page 3 All the great NFAA chartered shops and clubs do a great job in hosting these events and do so for not much compensation so go support if you can.

I think you will see that have made a few minor modifications to our social media so be on the lookout for changes and content that advertises and supports archery here in California. Give the social media a look and a like and help support your state organization.

The Vegas registration is now open so jump in and enjoy some world-class competition. It is my intention to show in Vegas and do some advertisements for NFAA and CBH/SAA. We are a membership-driven organization and I we will be working to that end. Come on out even if you are just in town for some fun and gambling. Come see us and support us as we push to get California NFAA membership up. Only a couple hundred more members give our NFAA Director Gary McCain the fifth vote at the national meetings. California has a strong voice at the national level, and it is my intention to make it even stronger.

Be on the lookout for the state meeting flier. The state meetings are coming in February and will be held out in Ontario, California, and hosted by OBFA Region 59. This will be the Big Game Club awards banquet and promises to be much fun. Continued on page 7

--Forty-Four Years Ago--
This Year [2022]
--In CBHA/SAA History--
Wes Wilhelm

In 1978 Walt Wilhelm and Ken Wilhelm were inducted into the CBHA (California Bowman Hunters Association) now the (CBH/SAA -- State Archery Association) California Archery Hall of fame for their contribution to the sport of archery.

Both were submitted to the National Archery Association and accepted as records. Ken continued shooting flight for many years; shooting his best distance October, 1939 in Amarillo Texas. 896 yards, Footbow. 579 yards 7" Handbow. Ken helped construct the first 28 target range in Redlands in 1934 and continued in his travels promoting archery. Continued on page 8

"KENNETH WILHELM 1902 - Hunter, Flight Shooter, Showman, Born June 8, 1902, in Mackay, Idaho, moved to California in 1910. Ken started in Archery in 1930 doing what most archers did in those early years, hunting. However, Ken Wilhelm will best be remembered as a showman, flight and trick shooter.

From 1938 to 1954 Ken assisted by his brother Walt and gave archery exhibitions at Sport Shows, Outdoor Shows and Special Tournaments throughout the United States and Canada. He made 4 Grantland Rice "Sport Shorts", narrated by Ted Husing that was shown around the world. He appeared on many radio and TV shows - publicizing archery, among them TV's "You Asked For It."

Ken Wilhelm was one of the first archers who helped publicize flight shooting and have distances accurately measured and verified. On October 1, 1938, using a 250 pound, 4' 1"-foot bow at the California State tournament in Modesto, Ken shot an arrow 758 yards and shot a hand bow 48 yards and 1 inch. An amazing feat for the type of material available in 1938.

President's message from page 6 The BGC has been meeting and preparing for awards and this promises to be a great meeting topped off by a fun banquet to honor hunters from around the state. By then we should have registration available for the State Broadhead in Lodi. Be on the lookout!

In closing I want to thank all of you for your continued support of CBH/SAA and encourage you to support our local California archery shops and outdoor sports businesses. These organizations do a great job servicing the sporting community and deserve everything we can give them.

As always I encourage everyone to be safe and shoot straight. As we quickly close out 2022, I sincerely hope you have had a good year! Create memories with your loved ones at this holiday season and we'll be wishing you the best in 2023.

All the Best,

Bowles

Forty Four Years Ago, continued from age 7

Throughout his travels he not only set many flight records, he helped start many clubs and laid out numerous ranges. Ken Wilhelm, Archery Pioneer. Inducted 1978”

WALTER SHERMAN WILHELM 1893- Hunter, Showman, Author Born February 27, 1893, in Trenton, Missouri. Moved to California in 1910. Walt first became interested in Archery in 1925. By 1928 he was an accomplished small game hunter on the deserts of California and by 1930 began teaching the sport to any who would listen.

Walt traveled throughout the United States and Canada shooting in Sport Shows, sometimes by himself sometimes with his brother Ken. "As a team we were unbeatable." Walt, with his brother Ken made movies for Paramount Studios, and 'Grantland Rice's Sport Shorts". They were the first to use chemical smoke on their shafts to follow an arrow in flight.

Walt Wilhelm is generally credited with being the first to put a twist on feathers when fletching an arrow. (1929) Walt was an early archery influence on, later to become famous authors; Capt. Jack Willard, "The Cat and the Canary", and Earl Stanley Gardner, "Perry Mason".

Walt himself an author wrote "Last Rig to Battle Mountain". Walter S. Wilhelm - Archery Pioneer. Inducted 1978”

CBHA Archery Pioneers Revisited and Remembered Walt and Ken Wilhelm’s contributions to the sport of archery are unique in their diversity and depth. Their contributions encompass flight records, film and television appearances, national and international sport show exhibitions, hunting, authorship, technical advancements, range/club creation, archery vendor support, organizing archery tournaments and of course, some of the most amazing archery shots imaginable.

Walt and Ken helped layout the Redlands and Pasadena Roving Archers field courses at the beginning of the NFAA. They were true national and international ambassadors of and for archery.

Out In The Woods

"Stalkings"

Rodney York 2nd VP Hunting

Looking back at one's childhood, stories are often embellished to generate a more enjoyable memory. Often the same event experienced by siblings was interpreted in a different context. With Christmas just around the corner, it seemed only fitting to delve into "stalkings" of the past. Perhaps you have no memories of stockings hung on the mantle above your fireplace. Or for a handful of readers, only the mention of Christmas stockings elicits the fondest of memories and presumably even smells of fresh-cut fir sap, apple cider, and hot cookies.

What I recall were not "fancy" socks but ole gray work socks stuffed with approximately twice the amount of their intended useful area. There was usually an orange, an apple, two or three peppermint twisted candy canes, a handful of Brazil nuts, a few chocolates, or if you were really lucky a Hershey's Almond Joy.

On flush years one might have a small toy included. These days the bar has been raised to a height of Olympic pole vaulter's proportions. The stockings are elaborate; commercially made colorful "baskets" that could engulf several old wool socks with their goodies. Since cranes aren't allowed in houses, these boots are placed in a corner or on the floor under an artificial tree. The bounty will provide little edible treats (Starburst, Airheads, Ghirardelli's chocolates), with maybe a lip gloss and mascara and quite possibly jewelry. I can't leave out several plastic gift cards (surely one for Starbucks Coffee, Ross, Chick-a filet, Panda Express, and of course Cabela's)

This is not an article but a chapter of my life stories. So, I suggest you get your preferred beverage, whether it be a café macchiato, hot chocolate or tea. Cuddle up in your wool socks wrapped in your coziest blanket near your crackling fire for this read, will be of some length.

Here, I have chosen my personal favorite "stalkings" from years past. As a youngster of 8-year experience, I found rabbits and quail my "go-to" candidate's to slip up on. A trusty single shot .410 was in hand. I quickly learned one must do a whole lot of watch'n, not must walk'n, and a ton of listen'n. Their's was a different "talk." But communicate they did, using each other's strength to preserve their own life.

By twelve I was able to pursue big game by myself. Learning now took off at exponential speed. Finding animals was never a problem - getting within thirty yards or less was a chore. Continued on page 10

Stalkings from page 9 First on the list - because it is the oldest of my fond memories we will address the Sierra Nevada high country mule deer. This fellow was special in so many uniquely different ways. This was a buck I learned about from friend, rancher, and packer; Bernie Box. His fishing friend had told of a huge buck that loved the broken bare rocks of the Minarets. My pursuit of this monster was the entire season of 1979. Not once had I laid eyes on him on any of the 18-mile hikes into his haunts.

Finally on Sunday, September the 16th the last day of the season I was able to glass up the giant. High above me he stood and browsed a short time just after 7 a.m. and then quickly bedded in the distant elevated willows. My approach was slowed to several hundred yards at a time with necessary prolonged stops to identify his location. Each time after relocating the "Muley" an advance of two or three hundred yards was made.

Seven hours later the final approach was done barefooted across a huge slab rock just above the buck's location. At ten yards I unfolded enough from my bent-knee crouched position to draw the bow. His wide eyes caught the last of the movement and he sprang forth from his bed. Two bounces straight away and then he cut hard to the left, and because of the 20-degree slope, the arrow entered near his spine and just in front of his hip slicing his femoral artery. Two more bounces and the steepness of the slope gobbled up his existence.

When I saw him again, I wasn't sure what the glob of mass was. The buck had died on the run, his head going down first: and he had run through his 28" rack. I remember thinking then,... "It's my sister's birthday!" Even with 105 pounds of boned meat and cape, the labored pack out was still joyous.

My Most memorable "stalking" number two is out of linear order as it has just occurred in 2022. I MUST save the second of chronological order until the last as I feel it shall never be superseded by any other. Thus we embark on an elk hunt. It is not in my favored timberline basin but among lightly tinted sage. To begin with, I had located in a tree to mingle my scent with the wind so much it was undetectable. Several elk had passed close by but a dandy bull had fallen behind with his interest more on food than the others. Continued on page 11

Stalkings from page 10 Without reasoning, I descended some 20 feet to ground level. After advancing in his direction some 100 yards, I stopped and removed both pack and boots. The wool stocks touched down from the toe to the lateral edge of the metatarsal gingerly with each bated breath. I hoped the bull could not hear my heart as it pounded extensively with excitement hard to contain as I slipped down to the thirty-yard line. Here I nicked an arrow. The bedded bull's swaying antlers were all I could see by the time I was at twenty yards. I questioned if I should continue forging on at a pace a snail could overtake. The constant breeze from the southeast encouraged me to precede.

Ten minutes later I settled in front of the knee-high sage and waited for the mature bull's antlers to rock forward. This would be my clue that he was about to rise. The string tightened as the arrow inched to the corner of my mouth. At sixteen yards the bull had been pierced without an inkling of danger.

A slow but deliberate pace lead him back through the sage from which he had come. Nearly a couple hundred yards further, I sat 30 yards away as the bull succumbed to the lethality of the single-bevel broadhead.

The last of what I'll share here was what I consider my ultimate "stalking". As stated earlier this happened much earlier in time, Back in 1989. I was accompanied to Alaska by our oldest daughter Sarah. We were working for an outfitter at Port Alsworth.

About our fourth week there our boss Glen asked when we had taken our last day off. Our reply was that we had not had a day off yet. He responded that we would be off the next three days and asked what we would do. Without hesitation, I turned and pointed to Tanalian Mountain. "We're going to climb that mountain and photograph Dall Sheep," I stated.

On the second day of climbing my daughter was more scared than tired from our ascent. It was so foggy one could see only about a foot of the knife-back ridge we were on. Even with all the moisture, the unmistakable scent of sheep hung heavy on the air. We could hear rocks tumble and knew we were close to where we had seen the sheep the previous night. Continued on page 12

Stalkings from page 11 One step, then pause - wait - proceed one step. I motioned Sarah to stop, then painfully slow, advanced another ten feet. The stringent odor nearly overtook me, but there! There, under the edge, not a foot distant was the back of a sheep! At the pace of a slug, my arm extended until it happened. My hand closed around a fist full of wool and the mountain erupted with the noise of sheep hooves under the hundreds of pounds of weight! Looking at my hand, I noticed it still clutched a palm-wide white puff. Today,... this is still my most prized possession of hunting memories.

I had done what I had read about as a child as if the most cunning of Indians; I had counted coup!

counting coup is the warrior tradition of winning prestige against an enemy in battle. It is one of the traditional ways of showing bravery in the face of an enemy and involves intimidating him, and, it is hoped, persuading him to admit defeat, without having to kill him. These victories may then be remembered, recorded, and recounted as part of the community's oral, written, or pictorial histories. [en.wikipedia.org]

Merry Christmas to you all and may each of your stalkings (stockings) be full of lasting fond memories!

CBHA Archery Pioneers Revisited and Remembered from page 8-Here is a small sample of the many comments made about them: In his 1963 book “The Desert is Yours”, by author and member of the Bow Hunter Hall of Fame, Erle Stanley Gardner [Perry Mason Author]

“Thirty years ago, [1930’s] when I was doing quite a bit of shooting with the bow and arrow, the Wilhelm brothers were without exception the most remarkable trick shots in the world – at least I have never seen many of their feats duplicated and have never heard of anyone willing to try them.”

Later in the same book, Erle Stanley Gardner recounted what Ken once told Sam Hicks, another colleague of Gardner’s:

“Later on in the trip he [Ken] confided to Sam Hicks that on his really close stunt shooting he always allowed for a quarter of an inch error so that there was really nothing to worry about. He gave himself that quarter-inch factor of safety.”

In the March-April 1982 issue of the Traditional Archery Digest in his regular column, “From the Files of Hugh Rich” Rich started by saying: “I first knew of the Wilhelm brothers via the magazines “Ye Sylvan Archer” and “American Bowman Review”. They were national archery heroes in 1937.”

Hugh Rich, who presided at Walt and Ken’s induction to the California Archery Hall of Fame, recounted later in the column that Ken “[...] was the first person to shoot an arrow more than one-half mile.”

In the March-April 1981 issue of the Longbow Shooter’s Digest in his regular column, “From the Files of Hugh Rich” it is recounted that “Hugh remembers that he knew of Walt and his brother Ken before he ever heard of Howard Hill.”

In his book “Legends In Archery”, published in 2010 Peter O. Stecher included a chapter on the archery contributions of Walt and Ken. Stecher starts chapter seven on Walt and Ken by saying “The Wilhelm brothers were unique archers.” Cont. page 16

CBHA Archery Pioneers Revisited and Remembered from page 15 Stecher also made note of the fact that Walt is “credited with being the first to have used spiral fletching on his arrows.” e note of the fact that Walt is “credited with being the first to have used spiral fletching on his arrows.” This assertion is supported by the information about Walt that is included in the CBHA California Archery Hall of Fame induction announcement “Walt Wilhelm is generally credited with being the first to put a twist on feathers when fletching an arrow. (1929)”.

Stecher also shared that “The Wilhelm boys had a lot of fun teaching neophytes how to shoot the bow and arrow. Actor Roy Rogers, for example, was one of their students.” In another example of the collaboration of their time, Stecher points out “The Wilhelms didn’t use their own homemade bows exclusively. Ken had a 70-pound yew flat bow with silk backing made by Fred Bear that he called Rib-Splitter and Walt had a short, broad 65-pound Osage bow from Ben Pearson named Hells-Bells.” Stecher concludes the chapter on Walt and Ken by saying “When reading old books about archers like Walt and Ken Wilhelm, the old times come alive. I get a bit nostalgic when I think of the spirit these men had.”

In a 2014 email written on behalf of his father-in-law Bruno Peveri, Francesco Chiesa of Piacenza, Italy shared the impact Ken had on Bruno during his years as a POW during World War II, in Yermo, CA. Here are a couple of Bruno’s comments:

“When I asked him to try and talk about Kenneth Wilhelm his eyes lit up.” “A great man. He was a champion of archery; you had to see his talent. One day he put me to the test, I put a bottle on my head and from a distance of six or seven meters far, after shooting at it made it fly. In Bruno courage never failed.”

“Some Sundays, he took us to his ranch that was not to be far from Yermo. Probably he had realized that we needed distractions. At the ranch he had set targets at various distances and showed us the technique of archery.

Film and Television Credits: Walt and Ken starred in six films displaying their archery talents and made several television appearances. The six films they made for Paramount Pictures, were: “Death Valley Thrills” in 1939, “A Desert Adventure” in 1939, “Two of a Kind” in 1940, “Meet The Champs” in 1941, “Personality Plus” in 1942 and “Like Father Like Son” with Ken’s son Dennis in 1947.

The films were shown in movie theaters all around the country during the switchover between the first and second films being shown. During the war the films were shown to soldiers all over the world. Over the years Walt and Ken appeared on several television shows exhibiting their archery skills. One of their appearances was on ABC’s live show “You Asked For It” produced by Maury Cohen and filmed at KECA television studios.

The Wilhelm’s sixteen years of Sport Show appearances started in October, 1938 at the Magic Arrows Show in Milwaukee, WI. The first appearance for Ken was arranged by National Archery Hall of Fame inductee Larry Wiffen for the Magic Arrows Show which was attended by “a capacity audience of 17,000 people”.

Larry Wiffen recounted the history in an article in the November 1938 American Bowman Review.

“When I conceived the idea of a really big archery show, I knew that it was necessary to have a star name to play up to, and I was all set to have Russ Hoogerhyde as the star. Then, just before I was ready to leave for the National Tournament [National Archery Association of the US, 58th Annual Target tournament] August 8-12 at San Francisco, I found that Russ was unable to take part because of lecture schedules in the east.

That had me worried, but at San Francisco I found my man. Just what the doctor ordered. That person was none other than Ken Wilhelm, and it proved to be a wise choice. Our publicity stories started building up Ken, his sensational skill in shooting apples off the head, and cigarettes out of the mouth, (the only trouble was I worked myself into the position of holding the stuff).” In another article Ken and Larry described the first time Ken shot a cigarette out of Larry’s mouth. Continued on page 17

CBHA Archery Pioneers Revisited and Remembered from page 15 “First time I ever shot a cigarette out of anybody’s mouth was in 1938 at the Frisco national. A fellow came up to me and said, ‘How about shooting a cigarette out of my mouth?’ I didn’t know him, and he didn’t know me. I said, ‘sure, I always wanted to try that.’”

He said, “do you mind if a man takes pictures?’ I said, ‘No’. So, he put a cigarette in his mouth, and I shot it out. He asked me to do it again, so I did, about 6 or 7 times. That fellow was Whiffen here. He got me started in the exhibition business. The article goes on to let Larry explain, “It wasn’t as crazy as it sounds,” said Whiffen, rather defensively. “I didn’t know Ken, but I’d been watching him fool around with trick shots there and I knew he was good.”

In the 1930’s and 1940’s Archers from all over the country travelled to shoot with Ken and Walt, some from as far away as New York State came to the Yermo/Barstow, Ca area of the Mojave Desert to compete in archery tournaments they hosted. Fred Bear, Howard Hill, Ben Pearson, and Earle Stanley Gardner were among several of the noted archers who came to shoot with Ken and Walt.

The Walt and Ken Wilhelm Invitational archery golf tournament honors the accomplishments of two of the pioneers of organized archery in California and across the country. The venue for this annual celebration will be held at the Wilhelm-Burrill Archery Links, 39405 Wilhelm Road, Newberry Springs, Ca 92365.

Walt and Ken began shooting archery golf very early on in their archery careers. In July of 1939 in competition with a professional golfer in Albuquerque, New Mexico Ken shot an astounding 54 on a par 72 course beating his golfing competitor by 18 strokes.

The Wilhelm-Burrill Archery Links sits on the site Walt and Ken shot archery golf at the 1930’s and 1940’s. It is an 18-hole, 6,700-yard archery golf course. At 6,700 yards the Wilhelm-Burrill Archery Links is a challenging and national championship caliber archery links. It overlooks some of the most beautiful desert country along the northern banks of the Mojave River not far from historic Camp Cady Ranch where Walt and Ken held numerous Oldtimers archery events in the 1960’s and 1970’s. If you would like to experience Archery Golf at its finest where two of the greats of archery shot please reach out to John Burrill at 1-949-933-0282 or jburrill58@gmail.com and reserve your Tee-Time.

Thank you to our sponsors and raffle donors!

Thank You for your Donations to the CBHSAA Legislative Defense Fund!
By Amanda Duchardt - Legislative Coordinator

The CBH/SAA Legislative Team would like to extend our wholehearted thanks all those that donated to the Legislative Defense Fund. It is our goal to promote wildlife conservation and protect our archery and hunting heritage within the state political system. With your donations, the CBH/SAA Legislative Team can attend important meetings and react to issues that are impacting our sport. We can also meet our financial obligations to Gaines and Associates, who represent us in the state capital and FGC meetings throughout the State. Additionally, it is our responsibility to cover expenses such as when we need to retain a legal team to protect us and our sport. This is why your donations, in any amount, are so important. Again, we thank those listed below in addition to those that donated previously for their support!

This Month's Donations Include:

Gabe Bruce $20 (from September), Earl Woods $25, Amanda Duchardt $50; Oranco Bowmen donated their 25% share of the piggybacked State Unmarked 3D in June to the Legislative Defense Fund. The CBH/SAA Showcase Tournament and Legislative Defense Fundraiser Event on 10/23 grossed $5,126 in registration, raffle ticket sales, and other generous donations including: CBH/SAA Small Game Club $45, Lucy Rojas $60, Wayne Raupe $10, Roland Fraterrigo $40, Rojen Besha $50, All OC Kitchen and Bath $200 Schaefer Heating and Air Conditioning $200
